

Estonian Junior Challenge 2021 guide

Estonian Junior Challenge (formerly Estonian R2 Challenge) is a series for young rally drivers launched by the Estonian Autosport Union (EASU) at the beginning of 2017. All the rounds of the challenge are driven within the Estonian Rally Championship (EMV). The aim of the series is to help the best young talents to step forward in their careers and to give support for stepping up to international level

In 2021, the prize of the Estonian Junior Challenge (EJC) is a scholarship intended for participating in the European Rally Championship in ERC3 Junior category with Rally4 car run by M-Sport Poland. The total price of the project is 95 000 € (including event entry fees and Pirelli tyres for six events). The value of the prize is 45,000 € and it will be granted to the winner of the series. Should the winner not be able to join the program, the scholarship will be granted to the next driver down of the Estonian Junior Challenge classification, etc.

Estonian Junior Challenge 2021 partners are M-Sport Poland, Pirelli and OT Racing.

The prize consists of three parts:

- 1) A 20,000 € scholarship (including taxis) from EASU for participating in ERC3 category with car run by M-Sport Poland. The scholarship will be paid out in six (6) equal payments after each event where the participant has taken part. EASU has right to have two 40x15cm stickers on winner's car.
- 2) M-Sport Poland will make discount for the winner of the series in sum of 20,000 €. This sum will be reduced from the total prize of the ERC3 project. Given discount will be agreed separately with M-Sport Poland and is intended to use only in ERC3 Junior events.
- 3) Pirelli will support the winner of the series with a 5000 € scholarship towards the project. Given support will be agreed separately with Pirelli and is intended to use only in ERC3 Junior events.
